One day in June (can't exactly say what day)

I was working in the Men's restroom on the second floor outside of the Administration office; I heard someone say "are you in there Valerie," I said "yes I'm cleaning the toilet!" Larry Meade had peeked his head around the partition near the doorway. I wasn't having a good day and was feeling blue.

He asked me if I needed a hug, I hesitated and then said yes. He walked over to me and put his arms around me; as he was hugging me I started to feel his hands on my behind. When I realized that he had just squeezed my butt I jumped back and pushed him away. I told him to leave.

2-3 days later he came to me when I was cleaning the water fountain in the same area as before and apologized for his behavior. He said he didn't realize it would bother me so bad.
